Would you like to better communicate health and safety policies and practices with your seasonal and migrant workers? This half-day training session is focused on best practices in safety orientation for seasonal and migrant workers. The training event is geared toward Alberta producers who are either interested in bringing in seasonal and migrant workers for their operation, or have already brought in seasonal and migrant workers and would like more information on conducting safety orientations. This training event will be co-presented by Al Dooley, Agriculture Recruitment Specialist with Alberta Agriculture and Rural Development, and Glen Blahey, Agricultural Health and Safety Specialist, Canadian Agricultural Safety Association.

To register for both or either of these events, go to www.agsafetyweek.ca. Please register by Friday, March 7 as space is limited.

CASA and CFA would like to thank Canadian Agricultural Safety Week 2014 sponsors and partners including: The Government of Canada through Growing Forward 2, Farm Credit Canada, Ag for Life, Alberta Agriculture, CHS, Imperial Oil, and Pioneer Hi-Bred Limited.
