Keeping Your Grandchildren Safe on the Farm

Grandchildren are one of life's greatest joys and the farm is an incredible place for kids to visit.

However, there are hazards and risks associated with farming life and grandparents are vital to the success and safety of their grandchildren.

Take the time to teach your grandchildren age-appropriate tasks, establish boundaries, provide supervision, model safe behaviour, and build safe traditions. These steps will not only help keep your grandchildren safe, but will help safeguard your legacy.

This Canadian Agricultural Safety Week, we are celebrating the AgSafe Family. For more information on keeping your family safe, visit agsafetyweek.ca.
